As 2023 begins there is change coming to Hilltop Pastures. Changes that we believe are for the better for us and you.

As a small farm we are committed to continuing to focus our efforts where we can have the biggest impact in our little corner of the world. With this focus in mind, we are excited to continue expanding our Katahdin Sheep flock and Spanish Composite Goat herd. This emphasis gives us the opportunity to look to a broader community of neighboring farms to continue to also offer wonderful grass-fed beef and pasture raised pork.

We will continue to offer our popular CSA program in 2023 featuring our own grass-fed lamb and goats. We are also super excited to be able to continue the relationship we began last fall with a neighboring Red Wattle Heritage Breed pig farmer. Beginning this year all pork from Hilltop Pastures will be Red Wattles. These are 100% pasture raised heritage breed pigs famed for their droopy-tipped ears and mild temperament. These guys do fantastic on pasture and are especially appealing for their juicy, tender, micro-marbled meat that actually marbles similar to beef. We'll also have grass-fed beef to offer from local farms that are compatible with our values and farming principles.

We took a hard look this winter at how we can best continue to be able to be in business and offer top quality sustainably raised meats. Along with partnering with others in our community we will also be reducing our deliveries to twice per year, one spring delivery and one fall delivery in 2023. In addition to our CSA options we will continue to offer half and whole lamb and goat bulk packages along with beef and pork bulk packages. While we will continue to offer a full complement of A' la Carte offerings for lamb and goat you will note on the included updated price list that the beef and pork A' la Carte options will be limited to ground beef, ground pork, brats, bacon and a few other items and specials depending on availability. The best way to get a full complement of grass-fed and pasture raised meats is to sign up for a CSA package today!
